Junior C. Of C's Two - Month Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up Campaign Gets Underway Today

SALEM'S CLEAN-UP, Fix-Up, Paint-Up campaign officially got under way today.

Designed to extend through May and June, the drive, commonly referred to as "Operation SPIC," is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees have appealed to every Salem citizen to show civic pride in making Salem a cleaner, more beautiful place to live.

Varied events are scheduled for the next two months to keep "Operation SPIC" going full blast. The parade Friday afternoon was the opening feature. In the top left photo a group of Junior Chamber members pitched in with brooms to clean up downtown State St. At bottom left, Girl Scouts Marilyn Dodge, Alice Ann Myers and Joyce Bloomberg plant forsythia in front of the public library. Mrs. James Rawsthorne, civic chairman of Garden Club, assists. Upper center, the Kiwanis Club's float in the parade. At top right, Rev. Richard Swogger puts in a new lawn at his home on S. Lincoln, and at bottom right, prize-winning posters in "Operation SPIC" are displayed as prizes are awarded by the Business & Professional Women's Club.

Florida Race Avidly Watched

Heavy Turnout Due In Pepper-Smathers

MIAMI, Fla., May 1—(AP)—The heaviest vote in Florida history tomorrow will decide the bitter Democratic senatorial race between Claude Pepper and George Smathers.

Secretary of State R. A. Gray predicted 600,000 of the 1,000,560 registered Democrats will choose between the incumbent, Pepper, and the young Miami congressman who has waged a stirring three-months campaign to unseat Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in Florida.

The torrid campaign between Pepper and Smathers was being watched for a possible national trend. The veteran of 14 years in the Senate has espoused what he calls the "Roosevelt-Truman program."

Smathers, completing his second term in the House, lashed at Pepper for what he said was his association with Communist-front organizations, his stand on the Fair Employment Practices Commission, and his backing by the CIO's Political Action Committee.

The Pepper-Smathers race has overshadowed other contests in the state, which is to nominate four congressmen, two state railroad and public utilities commissioners, 16 state Senators and a new House of Representatives.

For the first time since reconstruction days, the Negro vote may help decide the senatorial race. There are 106,420 Negroes registered as Democrats.

Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Truman To Make 8 Major Talks On Trip

WASHINGTON, May 1—(AP)—President Truman is depending on eight prepared speeches and any number of homey "trackside chats" this month to strengthen his "Fair Deal."

To meet this expected barrage, the Republicans laid plans for calling up their own big guns whenever Mr. Truman speaks out.

He starts for the West next Sunday on a 6400-mile stumping tour carrying him into 16 states.

Such Republicans as Senator Taft of Ohio, Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, Senator Wherry of Nebraska and National Chairman Guy Gabrielson are expected to be ready to reply on any issues Mr. Truman raises along the route.

Telephone Strike Threat Ends; Installers Call Off Walkout

NEW YORK, May 1—(AP)—The threat of a nationwide telephone strike was ended today—at least for the present.

Striking telephone installers called off their week-old walkout against the coast-to-coast Bell system early this morning and began new negotiations.

The back-to-work order flagged down pickets who had marched today in an effort to paralyze the nation's phone service.

The break came at 1 a.m. after a 15-hour bargaining session with federal mediators, and only four hours before the first pickets were scheduled to walk.

But there was a possibility some of the 10,000 strikers in 43 states might not get the news in time to stop early morning picketing—and the possibility that some of the other 230,000 union telephone employees would refuse to cross the lines to go to work. The picketing had been set for 6 a.m. local time.

M. Wayne Gray, vice-president of the striking union, announced at 6:30 a.m. that the 10,000 installers had been ordered to return to their jobs by 8 a.m., local time.

Nine hundred of New York City's 1,100 already were back at work and the remaining 200 were expected to report later in the day.

The strike was called last Monday by Division 6 of the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA) against the Bell system's manufacturing and supply unit, the Western Electric Co.

Division 6 now will join 23 other CWA divisions in new wage talks with the Bell system's parent corporation, American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and its several subsidiaries.

In announcing the end of the walkout, Division 6 President Ernest Weaver stated:

"Refusal by the CWA to further support the strike has caused Division 6 to request their members to return to work."

Union Shop Question Rises

Rail Unions Appear To Express Views

WASHINGTON, May 1—(AP)—A Senate labor subcommittee today turned to the controversial issue of whether the union shop—in which all workers must join the union—should be allowed on the nation's railroads.

A bill to amend the Railway Labor Act to make the union shop possible has been introduced by Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) of the subcommittee, and other Senators. The rail unions are behind the measure.

The more than 1,250,000 rail workers are excluded from the Taft-Hartley Act. Their labor-management programs are handled according to procedures set up in railway labor legislation of 1926 and 1934. The unions now are pressing to get the union shop provision.

George M. Harrison, president of the AFL Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks and a vice-president of the AFL, was scheduled as the first witness. He was assigned to voice the views of the railway labor executives association, which represents all but two of the major rail unions—the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. They will be heard on May 4.

Sponsoring Senators also will be called to testify on May 4. The Association of American Railroads and the American Shortline Association will explain their position on May 5.

Mrs. Raymond Kulow of Hubbard will be the speaker at the annual mother-daughter banquet of Jerusalem Lutheran Church Daughters of the King at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. The meeting was to be this Thursday.

Defense Seeks Answer To Adler

Suit Over Red Charge Opened Again Today

HARTFORD, Conn., May 1—Defense lawyers will seek to counter Larry Adler's claim that there was nothing pro-Communist about him on stage or off-stage, when a $200,000 libel suit resumes today in federal court.

The 36-year-old harmonica player and Paul Draper, the dancer, are suing Mrs. Hester McCulloch, Greenwich, Conn., housewife, for $100,000 each.

The entertainers allege she tagged them pro-Communist, thereby damaging their personal and professional reputations.

The case, which began late Tuesday before a jury of eight women and four men, has been in recess since Thursday.

In a long appearance on the witness stand, Adler said Mrs. McCulloch's charge that he and Draper "openly supported" more than nine Communist-front organizations had hit both entertainers in the pocketbook.

The slight, bespectacled Adler testified he hasn't been able to work in the United States since Mrs. McCulloch attempted to block a Draper-Adler concert in her home town in January, 1949.

Recently, he said, he appeared in France at about $100 a day, while before the McCulloch attack he was making $80,000 to $100,000 a year.

The musician, who ran away from his Baltimore home at the age of 14 to go on the stage, said he is a Roosevelt Democrat.

Adler made no bones about his support of the 1948 presidential bid of Henry A. Wallace. He said he thought Wallace "more nearly represented" the liberal ideas of President Roosevelt than did President Truman.

Taft-Hartley Law

CLEVELAND, May 1—(AP)—The president of the AFL International Typographical Union claimed here yesterday that under the Taft-Hartley law "the employers have the services of government to beat the hair off the local and international union."

Woodruff Randolph, international president of the union since 1944, spoke to some 200 members of the Cleveland Typographical Union No. 53 and Mailers Union No. 12.

"This law," he declared, "has abolished the closed shop, put an impediment upon our policy of not handling substandard or struck work and made it almost impossible for us to bargain collectively."

Randolph also assailed an independent opposition faction within his union.

"There seems to be a feeling among some members of our union that we have been hard on employers by getting wages doubled within recent years and by trying to preserve the closed shop," he said.

"The newspaper publishers, however, run a closed shop, as we found out by the sniping and harassment brought to bear on us when the union tried to start various newspapers—notably a newspaper in Trenton, N. J."

Carpenters Given

12½ Cent Hourly Hike

CLEVELAND, May 1—Pay boosts of 12½ cents an hour were granted 8,000 AFL carpenters in an agreement reached last night with builders' organizations here.

The settlement averted a walkout scheduled for today.

Harry Schwarzer, international representative of the Carpenters District Council, said the wage increase brings the hourly scale to $2.70, which includes a five-cent stipend for tool replacement. Foremen are to be paid 25 cents an hour over the journeyman scale.

Schwarzer said the contract also provided a half holiday on election day next November and for both primary and general election days thereafter.

Tomorrow's Primaries

TWO Republican candidates deserve nomination at the Republican primary election here tomorrow.

They are State Representative Clarence L. "Dutch" Wetzel of Lisbon and Galen H. Greenisen of Salem, one of five G.O.P. candidates for Columbian County Commissioner.

Rep. Wetzel, seeking renomination, should be the voters' first choice. There are two to be elected. He has served well in his first tenure in the state legislature as a fearless, tireless worker.

Usually Columbian County's Commissioners are from parts of the county other than Salem. This time Salem has a nominee in Galen H. Greenisen, veteran Perry township trustee and prominent dairyman.

At the head of the ticket the News endorses Don H. Ehrhart, Republican, for governor.

Who Gets Them Now?

FREDERIC JOLIOT-CURIE, the French Communist who has been fired from his job as France's No. 1 atomic scientist, is a special kind of security risk—the big global size.

There is no known evidence that he ever betrayed his own country to Russia. On the contrary, he was harshly criticized by French Communists at one time for saying that atomic secrets belonged to the United Nations, not to any single government.

There is no reason to believe that France, the other Western Allies, or any other nation will be any safer with M. Joliot-Curie out of his responsible position. His wife, Irene, daughter of the famous Curies who distinguished themselves for early studies of radioactivity, continues to be his collaborator. Together, they won the Nobel prize for chemistry in 1935. They are one of the most important teams of scientific researchers in the world today. They don't need the backing of a government to make themselves formidable.

The question is what becomes of this brilliant man and his brilliant wife now. Someone will be bidding for their intelligence, and it might as well be the United States. Dr. Joliot-Curie couldn't learn anything here he doesn't know already, and as for his politics Earl Browder could take care of that by testifying that he'd never heard of the Joliot-Curies before.

Truth Dodgers

THE sputtering which Herbert Hoover's blunt remarks about the one-world illusion have started is an interesting demonstration of truth-dodging.

All that Mr. Hoover did in his talk before the newspaper publishers' convention last week was to point out that the natural division of nations is between those which believe in God and those which believe in the Kremlin. He suggested, therefore, that the former should organize themselves in a separate league.

This was construed as a dig at the United Nations, which it was in some ways. But Mr. Hoover reminded his listeners that it might not be practical to organize an anti-Communist bloc outside the U.N. In effect, he used that possibility only for purposes of illustration and not as a proposal of policy. This, of course, was overlooked by the sputters, one of whom is Walter Lippman, whose current column is typical of the adverse reaction to Mr. Hoover's speech.

But as the sputtering dies down, as it will, Mr. Hoover's main point will be easier to understand. All he has proposed is that the truth about the one-world ideal be dealt with on a more realistic basis than has been in use since the inception of the United Nations five years ago. The truth is that the Soviet Union is dead set against interna-

And he still makes up his own mind, too.

"The small town editor has a big advantage over the big city editor," he said. "He has more independence. He can tell everybody he thinks is wrong to go to Hell—and he can run the kind of paper he wants because he owns it himself."

The principle of keeping himself free to tell everybody to go to Hell is very important to Putnam, a bachelor who contributes to all community charities but doesn't mix too actively in civic functions. He is wary of being tied down by friendships.

"My philosophy is to expose anything that's crooked and to support anything that is sincere and right. It doesn't make any difference who it affects—if it is my best friends. I don't care about that."

And Editor Putnam, a slim, blue-eyed, white-haired man of gentle appearance, has never backed away from a fight.

"WE'VE HAD more libel suits filed against us—we've been boycotted more often—than any paper in Oregon," he said proudly.

tional cooperation; it isn't buying any. The truth is that it has been busily dividing the world into spheres of influence and the United States has been keeping abreast of this momentous development in international relations by moves to retain and gain as many allies as possible. The Foreign Aid Program, the Atlantic Pact, Point Four—they all add up to balances-of-power politics.

Mr. Hoover merely proposes that it might be revealing and helpful for the United States to know how many nations would line up with it on purely ideological grounds, entirely apart from what they might hope to receive in the form of goods, credit, arms and capital investment. He admits this might be impractical but contends it would be instructive. In view of the sputtering which is following his remarks it looks as if others were afraid it might be too instructive for comfort.

Candor Among The Rain Gods

A NEW dilemma has worried its way out of the complex plan for increasing rainfall over the New York watershed. The rain-makers admit they don't know whether or not they're getting results. It has been raining more than usual without their intervention. Whatever credit they may claim is dubious and always will be, they confess.

But they don't need to apologize. Quite the contrary, they have distinguished themselves by their uncertainty. Not all the practitioners of scientific "miracles" make a practice of being so candid, they stake out their claims over as wide an area as their imaginations can carry them. They follow a policy of being right until proved wrong, then challenge the proof. They announce they have a new technique for making the moon rise, then if the moon rises they point with pride.

Nearly everything in the world that's cherished is due to their efforts, they declare. They frankly can't imagine how the world got along before they came, or what it would do if they left. Eventually, the rain-makers in New York may stake out some claims, too. In the meantime, their candor is refreshing. All they're capable of doing, they admit, is to hope for the best, just like everybody else.

Poverty Amid Plenty

By CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON
AMERICA is getting richer and richer. But still it isn't getting rich fast enough. If it doesn't get rich faster, serious trouble lies ahead somewhere. That's the substance of the conclusions experts draw from the latest monthly report to Congress by the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Nearly all business indices have been rising in recent months, and business prospects look good. So said the President, and so say his economists.

Yet the nation is affected with creeping unemployment. If unemployment keeps on rising indefinitely, any economist will agree that a day of reckoning must come. About the only healthy way to avoid unemployment is to provide more and more jobs. And that's what industry is doing. But it isn't providing new jobs fast enough.

Leon Keyserling, acting chairman of the Council, told a reporter: "We are not getting the expansion in industry and investment that we need to absorb the steady increase in the labor force. That is a serious problem."

THE TOTAL number of employed persons has been rising for the past three months. But the monthly average is still lower than the monthly average for either 1947, 1948 or 1949. In March civilian employment stood at 57,551,000—slightly under the total for March of 1949, which was 57,647,000.

But the labor force keeps growing—the body of persons working or seeking work. It totaled 62,305,000 in March 1949. It was 63,021,000 in March of this year, a gain of 716,000 persons.

Employment increased from 3,167,000 in March 1949 to 4,123,000 in March of this year—a gain of 956,000. Those figures worry government economists. They, the President and Congress are committed to the principle that America's economic hope lies in full employment. That means creating new jobs fast enough to give work to the ever-growing mass of persons who need it.

In order to do this, according to the economists, the nation's industrial production must increase at the average rate of 2 1/2 to 3 percent each year. Two per cent of this increase would be to give new jobs to persons who have been displaced in industry because of increased productivity—the ability of industry to turn out more goods per worker as a result of new machines and techniques. That means fewer workers are needed to do a given job.

THE OTHER one-half to one per cent of the needed increase in industrial production would be to provide jobs for the new workers who join the labor force each year as the population grows. But in the past year industrial production did not increase. The index of production stood at 184 in March 1949. It was still 184 in March 1950. It has been rising ever since the post-war low of 161 last July but still is not so high as in 1947 or 1948.

Expenditures for new plant and equipment are on their way down, according to the Council. They amounted to $18,120,000,000 in 1949. The Council estimates that they will be only $16,090,000,000 this year. The annual rate dropped more than $2,000,000,000 between the fourth quarter of 1949 and the first quarter of this year.

The setup would revolutionize modern living, and everything would be slick as a politician's opening remark. Now that the possibility has been brought to light, something should be done about it without delay. All the anthropoids should be rounded up instantly. The University of Virginia professor should be ready with plans. Every candidate for an anthropoidal helper should be a volunteer in this worthy project and assign himself a quota of raw material.

These apes would be free from all existing moral scruples about slave labor. They would be hybrids. Though they would walk on their hind legs and be subject to systematic exploitation for human profit, just like men, they would work for nothing but bananas and demand no tutti-frutti.

The place where a lot of us will go astray is the possibility of getting one of these creatures to help us pursue the life of Riley. What could be handier than a well-muscled ape to spade up the garden and get rid of the winter's accumulation of ashes? And that's just a sample. The ape would be useful 365 days a year.

He could wash dishes, move furniture and run errands. He could air the dog, let out the cat and hold skeins of yarn for Madame LaFarge. He could lift out the storm windows and put in the screens. He could wash the automobile, move stones, repair the roof, bring in the mail—and all this for no reward other than a head of lettuce.

The lush life of the "halcyon" days of the slaveholding south could be revived without a misgiving in a carload. The hybrid anthropoids, if the thing was handled right, would have no more or less dignity than a horse or an ox. They'd be under the jurisdiction of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. But no labor union would give them a tumble.

The hybrid anthropoids, if the thing was handled right, would have no more or less dignity than a horse or an ox. They'd be under the jurisdiction of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. But no labor union would give them a tumble.

Anytime you give the public the truth as you see it—well, it pays. Anytime you put the truth up to them, and explain it so they can understand it, they'll support you—so long as they feel you really stand for better government. You don't have to worry about boycotts or libel suits.

Reviewing his own long fight for honesty in government, Putnam said:

"You always have to fight for real law enforcement—any editor does. After a cleanup the people lie down and rest. But the criminal element never rests."

"So it is an eternal fight. Any fight for liberty is eternal. For liberty is never inherited—it is the creation of every generation. And it can be stolen from them the moment they become lax."

"It's a closed season on editors as established as of now. Violators will be killed on sight."

Putnam then got himself a pistol permit, and kept a loaded gun in his desk. After that the threats still came—but no brass knucks.

At 78 looking back on more than 50 turbulent years of newspaper work, Putnam today can't think of a better philosophy than the one he coined in the early years of the century:

"The paper that has no enemies has no friends."

Social Security

Plans Involve U.S. Grants To States

WASHINGTON
SOCIAL SECURITY act amendments passed by the House last October comprise a 200-page document which can be understood only by few people interested only in what it costs them and what they're going to get out of it.

One of the main revisions in this field, however, concerns changes with respect to public assistance—the federal grants in aid to the states to help them care for people who can't support themselves.

Since old age and survivors' insurance benefits are now low, and since many people like farm and domestic workers are excluded from even that protection, some welfare workers feel that public assistance should operate like a poor man's pension system.

This is cause for much worry and confusion. Farm states have a particular problem here. Farm workers are exempted from social security coverage. When farm hands are no longer able to work, they must fall back on public assistance. The burden of caring for these people is much heavier than in the industrial states, where a larger percentage of the workers are covered by social security revision on which there is this agreement.

In Louisiana, eight out of 10 old people get public assistance of $50 a month, while the other two draw old age insurance of only $25 a month. That being the case, why should anyone contribute 1 1/2 per cent of his wages over a long period of years, in order to draw only half as much as he can get for free, if he's destitute?

THE federal government now makes contributions to the states for public assistance to the blind, to people over 65 and under 18.

These are the so-called "aristocrats of poverty." Others who may be just as needy don't get this assistance because the states naturally tend to put their own money where they can get matching federal funds.

The federal government now pays up to $30 against the state's $20 for care of the aged. This means that an elderly couple can get $100 a month. For a first dependent child the federal grant is up to $16.50 against the state's $10.50, and up to $12 against the state's $6 for the second dependent child. This means $27 and $18 a month, respectively. It is now proposed to provide for total payments of up to $27 a month ad-

But in the past year industrial production did not increase. The index of production stood at 184 in March 1949. It was still 184 in March 1950. Keener Flies Timken Helicopter Here

Henry Timken of Canton, executive vice president of the Timken Roller Bearing Co., used a unique mode of travel to pay a social call Saturday on his friend Sam Keener of Highland ave.

Flying a yellow helicopter from Canton, Mr. Timken and his pilot, Bruce Jones of Palo Alto, Calif., landed their craft on the F. J. Emeny property next to Mr. Keener's residence about 2:30 p.m.

The plane was brought to Salem so Mr. Keener could fly it. Taking advantage of the opportunity, Mr. Keener took off from the Emeny property with Mr. Jones and another Salem resident, Bill Urbanowicz, and flew over Salem.

Mr. Keener landed the 'copter on the golf course. When he landed the plane on the Brooks property after the flight, it made the fifth time he has landed a craft near his residence—three times with different airplanes, once with a blimp and the first with a helicopter.

May Day

moth May Day parade in Moscow.

Moscow, the capital of all Communist-style May Day celebrations was engulfed in a sea of red bunting. A military parade marched past Lenin's tomb and Stalin's reviewing stand. Overhead roared Moscow's most spectacular peace time display of Soviet aerial power, led by Stalin's son, Lieut. Gen. Vassili Stalin.

May Day, established as International Labor Day by the Socialist International at Paris in 1889, since has been traditionally celebrated throughout Europe.

The Soviet troops were reviewed in Moscow by Gen. S. M. Shtemenko, chief of the general staff. He told cheering throngs the Soviet Army and Navy, together with the Russian people, are "convinced of their might and ready to defend their beautiful motherland from the encroachment of any aggressor."

Yugoslavia's independent Communist celebration — minus the pictures of Stalin featured in the Soviet satellites — was touched off by a triumphant declaration that Premier Marshal Tito's regime had broken the Russian-led Cominform's blockade of nearly two years.

The proclamation by Yugoslavia's Communist party central committee charged a "hostile" Russia with organizing the blockade when the Tito regime was thrown out of the Cominform for failure to toe the Moscow line.

Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, in a May Day address, blasted Red China's leaders and urged workers now living under the new Communist regime to fight with sabotage and strikes. He pictured his beleaguered Nationalist forces on Formosa as fighting the Russians as well as the Chinese Communists. He charged the Chinese Red Leader Mao Tze-Tung with subjecting the 450,000,000 people on the mainland to Soviet servitude and with placing "all material resources and industrial equipment on the mainland at Russia's disposal."

Home Owners Should Inspect Now For Winter Damages

Spring is an annual reminder to home owners to inspect their houses for damage done by winter weather and to make necessary repairs.

All of the exterior parts of a house—roof, sidewalls, foundation, doors and windows—should be checked because all of them are vulnerable to ice, snow, rain or wind. A close, detailed inspection is recommended because structural weaknesses, the most serious damage, are not always apparent at first glance.

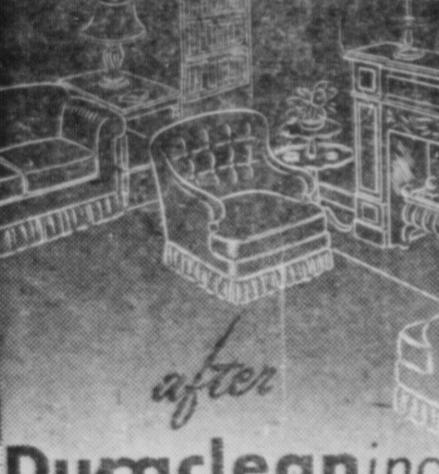

Examine the roof from the attic. Look at the underside of the roof deck boards to note any indications that water has leaked through. If there are only one or two holes, repairing the roof might be possible but patching a leaky roof usually is unsatisfactory. Roofing material tends to wear out uniformly. The first leak can be taken as a sign that more will develop soon.

New Material Suggested

Covering the roof with new material instead of patching it, generally is recommended. Asphalt shingles, a material highly resistant to both weather and fire, can be applied on top of most old roof surfaces, thus eliminating the expense of removing the worn material.

Water stains on interior walls and ceilings sometimes can be traced to a leaky roof, too. Water entering a house through the roof often runs down a rafter.

More Beautiful to live with...

after Duracleaning

For economy and convenience... have your upholster and floor coverings Duracleaned by experts right in your home. Watch the unusual care with which these craftsmen beautify your furniture.

Duraclean means your fabric lasts longer because this modern, safe cleaning process avoids strong soaps and chemicals which so often harm the dyes or fabric. Longer life too, because there is no wear and breaking of fibers caused by machine scrubbing.

This patent protected service is recommended by America's leading furniture and department stores.

What Makes Duraclean "Different"

It cleans by absorption!

Embedded dirt and grit are first removed by "deep suction." Many cleaning methods leave enough dirt-laden soap in your rugs and upholstery to cause "matting" or "rapid resoiling." Duracleaning avoids this.

The mild saponified Duraclean foam loosens and absorbs sticky soils, holding them in suspension above the surface until removed.

No inconvenience. Duracleaned fabrics are dry in just a few hours. Special ingredients—Rug and Carpet Cleaners and stains. Colors revive. Your fabrics are left clean, fresh, enlivened... your home is more beautiful to live with.

Duraproof—if you wish, you may or the same time have your floor coverings, upholstery, clothing or furs Duraproofed. You have 4 years protection against damage from moths and carpet beetles. Also protects against mildew. The annual cost is lower than applying less effective moth solutions yourself. Have your fabrics Duraproofed today—before damage develops.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

UNFETTERED BY SUPERFLU-
ITIES, this modern flat-roof house with wide projecting eaves was built for approximately $11,000 exclusive of land. The 29-foot combination living and dining room, with fireplace and wide windows is a feature. The porch

Dow Payment Dropped

Asphalt shingles are widely used in reroofing work because in most cases this material can be laid on top of the old roofing, thus eliminating the expense of tearing off the worn roof covering. In addition, the solid and blended colors in which the material is made permit enhancing the attractiveness of a home economically.

Since last summer, the FHA has not required that a down payment be made on a property improvement loan.

About 10,000,000 Title I loans, totaling approximately $4,000,000,000, have been made to property holders since the program began in 1934.

BUILDING GAINS

CLEVELAND, May 1—Home building in Cleveland in March more than maintained the high level characteristic of 1950 to date, according to a statement by Adolph O. Berger, regional director of the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Builders started 1,170 new dwelling units, both single family homes and apartment units in March, 24 percent more than in February. March was the twelfth consecutive month in which the number of dwelling units started was greater than in the same month a year ago.

On the exterior, reroofing and exterior finishing, which includes painting, are the leading repairs.

After remodeling, this home is modern but conservative in style.

Drawing shows original exterior.

Built about 1900, this house was too awkward-looking and boxy for today's architectural standards, but well-planned remodeling converted it into an attractive dwelling of conservative modern style.

One of the first steps in modernization was to take off the old-fashioned front porch. A new porch was added at the side of the house toward the rear. A front entrance way of traditional design was constructed.

The house was widened. The fireplace was moved so that the chimney would be at the front of

Allow Children to Enjoy Food

THIS is Child Health Day. The President proclaimed it as such. He asked a question every parent must answer, "Are we, the richest nation in the world, doing all we should to give our children a fair deal?"

Of course, we all want to. But let's check up on attitudes, beginning with the basic one of children's eating.

Child guidance clinics throughout the country report that most problems center around eating. Parents are apt to be too anxious about getting food into their babies.

Dr. Nina Ridenour, Director of the Division of Education of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, expert on healthy parent child relationships, says,

"Good food, offered in a matter-of-fact way, without urging. There—as simple as that—is the main point in helping children to develop good eating habits."

She stresses this fact: you can't make people enjoy something. You can only let them enjoy it. The same is true of food. The parents' role is not to make the child eat, but to let him eat.

"Always offer any new food when the child is hungry and when he is in good humor. The best way to get a child to like all kinds of food is not to try to make him eat all kinds against his will, but to give him some freedom of choice," she adds.

This consultant believes that forcing a child to eat is one of the most common parental mistakes.

"Keep before you what you want for your child. You want him, by the end of his first year to have learned to like to eat and to like to eat a wide variety of food. If you accomplish this, you will have laid the foundation for good eating habits. He may still show certain little cranky natures and dislike a few foods. But if he likes a variety of foods, he will be more likely to eat a balanced diet when it is set before him, and as he grows older, he will be better able to select his own balanced diet."

New Materials Transform Old House

A wise selection of materials changed an old farmhouse, left, into a new-looking house. White-painted boards and natural knotty pine were used for the sidewalls, and green asphalt shingles for the roof.

Selection of distinctive materials can be the secret of transforming an old house into a home with a brand-new look.

In remodeling a farmhouse near Chagrin Falls, Ohio, William C. Weidman, chose two kinds of siding. The lower part of the walls was covered with 8-inch-wide boards, running horizontally and painted white. Knotty pine was applied vertically on the upper part. Green fire-resistant asphalt roof shingles were selected.

Because the lower part of the house is lighter in color than the upper part, attention is attracted to the lower part. Consequently,

RETAIL SALES UP

COLUMBUS, May 1—For the first quarter of 1950, total Ohio retail sales were up 2 per cent over the level for the same period of 1949, according to the April issue of the Ohio Retail Annalist, published by the Bureau of Business Research at Ohio State University. The increase, the Annalist states, is due to large sales gains in consumer durable goods lines.

Red Sox In High Gear; Win Over Philadelphia 19-0, 6-5

A's Make Habit Of Huge Losses

Hold Record Of 0-21
Defeat Back In 1939

By JOE REICHLER

When bigger and better horse-collars are fashioned, it's a pretty safe bet the Philadelphia Athletics will wear 'em.

When a team wins by a lopsided shutout score, the A's are almost certain to be on the receiving end.

Until yesterday, 14-0 represented the largest shutout score in the American League in the last 10 years. One such game was played in 1943. Another in 1944. The Athletics were the victims both times.

The luckless Mackmen made those two games seem like pitcher's battles yesterday in the first game of a doubleheader. Final score was Boston 19, Philadelphia 0. The Red Sox also won the nightcap, 6-5.

Boston missed by two runs in equaling the record of 21-0. Who do you think lost that one? Why, the A's of course. It was back on Aug. 13, 1939 that Red Ruffing of the New York Yankees whitewashed the Athletics, 21-0.

A BOSTON crowd of 34,697 watched the Red Sox maul four Philly hurlers for 17 hits, good for 34 total bases in the opener. Ted Williams, back in action after missing seven of the last eight games because of the gripe, blasted two home runs. Joe Dobson never had it easier as he belted out five singles for his second triumph.

Sore-armed Dick Fowler made his first start for the A's and was tagged for seven runs in the two innings he worked.

Boston built up a 5-0 lead for Southpaw Chuck Stobbs in the first three innings of the second game. The young bonus pitcher weakened gradually, putting the tying run on first with one out in the ninth. Al Papal took over and retired the next three batters. Hank Wyse was the loser.

The Chicago White Sox emerged with a victory and a tie in their doubleheader with the league leading Detroit Tigers. After Lefty Bill Wight hurled a two-hit, 5-0 triumph in the opener, the White Sox overcame a 7-0 deficit to gain a 7-7 tie before darkness halted the contest at the end of nine innings.

Hank Majeski paced the White Sox' comeback drive. He drove in four runs with a pair of home runs.

Del Rice broke up a brilliant 13-inning hurling duel with a home run to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs. It gave Harry Brecheen a hard-fought triumph over Johnny Schmitz.

Cincinnati swept both ends of a doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 4-2 and 2-1, although held to two hits by Mel Queen in the second game. Queen, the former American Leaguer, had a no-hitter, going into the seventh. He walked Ted Kluszewski and Ron North followed with a home run. Ewell Blackwell, making his first start for the Reds, went the route yielding five hits.

THREE RUNS in the eighth inning enabled the Reds to overcome a 2-1 deficit in the first game. Walker Cooper singled in two runs. Howie Fox gained the decision over Cliff Chambers although he needed ninth inning aid from Herman Wehmeier. The victories ran the Reds' winning streak to four straight. They dropped their first six starts.

The Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phils divided a twin bill. The Braves won the opener, 4-1, and the Phils took the nightcap, 9-3. Rookie Norman Roy held the Phils to five hits in his debut as a starter. A ninth inning home run by Willie Jones spoiled his shutout bid.

Robin Roberts gained his third straight victory for the Phils with an eight hitter in the nightcap. He fanned 11. Gran Hammer and Mike Goliat led a nine-hit attack against Dick Donovan and Bob Hall with home runs.

Four games were rained out. Brooklyn and New York were washed out in the National. A doubleheader between Cleveland and St. Louis and a single game between New York and Washington were postponed in the American.

TURN DOWN PROS AKRON, O., May 1—(AP)—Two University of Akron basketball stars turned down bids from professional cage teams yesterday. Hank Vaughn, an All-Ohio forward, rejected an offer from the Minneapolis Lakers, and Lou Arko, who rated the All-Ohio Conference team last season, passed up a proposal from Syracuse.

The two intend to play for Akron Goodyear Wingfoots in the National Industrial Conference next winter.

Wakefield Now Nobody's Baby

Refuses To Play With Chicago Without Raise

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 1—(AP)—Rejecting one American League club and rejected by another, outfielder Dick Wakefield now is a bigger problem child than ever to organized baseball.

Once a Detroit Tiger bonus player, moody, 29-year-old Dick insisted he won't go back to the New York Yankees who obtained him in a trade last winter.

"Obviously, I'm not wanted," he said. The Yanks tried last week to deal him off to Chicago.

But Wakefield isn't going to play for the White Sox, either.

Chicago General Manager Frank C. Lane made that clear when he called off the Wakefield-for-Johnny Ostrowski-and-cash bargain after Dick refused for two days to report to the Sox without a salary boost.

How about the minor leagues, for instance New York's American Association club at Kansas City?

"I would quit baseball first," snapped Wakefield.

IN NEW YORK, the Yankee management had no immediate comment on the impasse.

"It's something we'll have to take up today with all parties involved," a spokesman said.

The New York-Chicago deal was called off because Wakefield wanted his old Detroit salary restored. That would be $5,500 more than the $17,000 the Yankees agreed to pay him.

"I would like very much to play for the White Sox. But my position remains the same. Someone has to come up with that $5,500," the one-time leading slugger said. He also denied reports that he might retire and build a hotel in Ann Arbor and scoffed at rumors that the Yanks will send him down to Kansas City.

"Every team in both league would have to waive on me before New York can send me to Kansas City," he said. "I wouldn't even consider that."

The former University of Michigan star, paid a $40,000 bonus by Detroit in 1941, had one good year (1943) in the majors before Navy service. After returning, he had a hot half-season in 1945, and then relapsed into mediocrity.

He was supposed to start five times last week, but each time the game was postponed. Yesterday was the latest.

Big Mike thrives on hard work, but he hasn't been getting it this year. He hasn't started a game since the season opened and has hurled only six innings since March 23. The last time he fired was in four innings of an exhibition game against the New York Giants on April 15.

Two trips home because of the illness and death of his mother kept the husky hurler idle during the latter part of spring training.

The Indians will return to Cleveland on May 12 after engagements with Boston, New York, Washington and Philadelphia.

Rained-Out Indians Hope For Practice

CLEVELAND, May 1—(AP)—If something unlikely like the weather turning good should occur, Cleveland's Indians might get in a few practice licks today.

The heaviest April 30 rainfall in the city's history—six-tenths of an inch—kept the Tribesmen from playing their double header with the St. Louis Browns.

In the past week, the club has had six games postponed by rain and cold.

Today was an open date before the club leaves tonight on its first 1950 eastern trip, and Manager Lou Boudreau hoped to put his charges through a stiff work out.

Boudreau said he would send Mike Garcia to the mound Tuesday in the first Boston clash, but doesn't put too much faith in this.

He was supposed to start five times last week, but each time the game was postponed. Yesterday was the latest.

Andy Mocsary, Salem Pro, Arrives Sunday

Affable Andy Mocsary, for several years resident pro at the Salem Golf club, arrived here Sunday from St. Petersburg, Fla. for the season.

He will be on duty at the club until late October, giving lessons, supervising tournament play and operating his pro shop. His wife and two children will remain in Florida until the end of the current school term.

He reports that he suffered some pulled tendons in his leg, while playing golf, this winter. The injury put his leg in a cast, which was removed only last week.

CADDIES INVITED

COLUMBUS, O., May 1—(AP)—

Rhodes, who also is president of the National Caddie Association, Inc., said caddies may attend the May 22 during the 18-hole qualifying round.

King Ranch To Run Two Horses In Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1—(AP)—King Ranch has decided on a one-two-punch for Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

That was determined last night when Trainer Max Hirsch arrived from New York and said Middleground would go in the Derby trial tomorrow and On The Mark would wait for the Derby.

Previously it was believed On The Mark would have to earn his way by a good showing in the trial.

On The Mark, who has yet to win a race, ran surprisingly well in the recent Blue Grass States at Keeneland, finishing third to Mr. Trouble and Oil Capitol.

Middleground's appearance in the trial will give fans a chance to compare the west's hopefuls with the east's. For Ben Jones, Calumet Farm trainer, is almost sure to send Theory out to meet Middleground in the trial.

There should be at least four other Derby eligibles in the trial—including the Brookmeade entry of Greek Shipland Sunglow, A. E. Reuben's Lot O' Luck and Wilburton Farm's Trumpet King.

Other possibilities, all Derby eligibles, are Calumet Farm's All Blue, Reverie Knoll Farm's

COLUMBUS, O., May 1—(AP)—The American Bowling & Billiard team of New York City shot into second place in team standings in the American Bowling Congress tournament early today with a 292 total.

With the leadership of the tournament almost in sight after games of 970 and 1000, the B & B team faltered in the third game with a 909. That was six pins short of the 2938 mark hung up April 18 by Harry's Men's Wear of Norwood, O.

B & B's captain, Tony Sparano, said simply after his team's disappointing finish:

Your Garden

Drainage Is Vital To Garden

By HENRY PREE

The kind of soil you have in the garden determines to a great extent what kind of flowers and vegetables you can raise.

Unhealthy plants are subject to all diseases and bugs. The more vigorous the plants the more resistant they are to pests. And to get healthy plants make sure that the soil contains the proper elements if there is humus and proper elements in it.

First get the soil mechanically ready. Probably this part of the work will correct all other ills, for, as a general rule, the necessary plant foods are in all earth if they can be made available to the plants.

Soil must have drainage. Where water stands in earth it produces an acid condition and most plants will not grow in earth that always contains water.

The earth must dry out and excess water must drain away from the roots. In sandy soil the drainage problem is solved but in clay soil there should be some kind of under-drainage.

The top growing soil is called topsoil and the lower soil is called subsoil. This subsoil must not be a stiff impervious clay or a hard shale or rock. It should be porous so that water can drain away. If it isn't, then something has to be done about it.

Tile drains such as the farmer uses must be put in the subsoil. Lines of tile should not be over 20 feet apart. The covering immediately above and over the tile should be cinders or gravel. Then the backfill should have sand or gravel and manure dug into it so that it is porous and permits air to pass through it.

The tiles should be laid so that each one slopes $\frac{1}{8}$ inch to the foot and eventually runs into a drain or gutter. The high point in the drain line should have a covering of at least a foot of soil. As the line is extended the outlet may be two or three feet below the surface.

Laying of the tile begins at the outlet end and grade stakes should be set to insure a constant pitch of not less than the $\frac{1}{8}$ inch per tile.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

shrub or a wall, leave at least a foot unplanted to provide working space.

Q—My lawn usually has a lot of brown spots during the hot weather. Should I spread peat moss on it?

A—Brown spots in the lawn are the result of so many different causes that I cannot prescribe until I know something about the conditions. Lack of topsoil, too little or too much fertilizer, over-watering, insects, diseases, dogs, etc., are a few of the reasons for brown spots.

Q—How wide should we make the beds in a formal flower garden?

A—Flower beds wider than six feet present a working problem, as they cannot be easily weeded or cultivated. Six feet is an easy working distance for most tools. If beds are backed by

Four Stops In Ohio Set For Truman Train

WASHINGTON, May 1—President Truman's train will make four stops in Ohio next month on the chief executive's Western trip, the White House reported today.

Leaving Washington on Sunday, May 7, the presidential special will make a statutory crossing stop in Haysletton, O., at 10:57 a. m. The train will reach Willard at 1:10 a. m. Monday and leave at 1:25 a. m. after changing crews.

On the return, crews will be changed during a stop from 4:15 a. m. to 4:25 a. m. at Willard May 16. The Haysletton crossing stop will be at 6:38 a. m.

The announcement did not say whether the President will make any public appearances during any of the stops.

Spring Is Time
To Eliminate
Fire Hazards

With spring being dedicated to housecleaning, the elimination of fire hazards at this time is important as it will prevent fires from occurring during the summer.

Salem's grand old man of Fire Prevention, Chief Vincent Mallory stated recently that 57 per cent of all home fires start in the basement. Going on that assumption, if you clean up your basement, you will eliminate over half of your fire hazards.

Harry J. Callan, state fire marshal, said today, "Most home fires do not reach the headlines as do large conflagrations; however, they cost the nation four times as much property damage and four times as many lives" so it certainly behoves all of us to clean up our homes, buildings and yards in the spring.

W. T. Holliday, Chairman of the Board of Directors, Standard Oil Company (Ohio) and general chairman of the Ohio Fire Safety Committee, stated, "Spring cleanup should certainly not stop with the basement, but should begin there and end in the attic. All accumulation of trash, paper and little used articles which we keep from year to year, should be removed and disposed of." Yards should be raked and houses and buildings repainted, roofs checked and repairs made where needed.

"Clean up the trash and be safe from fire."

BRIGHT NEW TOUCH TO A BIG BOLD BEAUTY

See something new here! That's right—the gleaming zveepaper now adorns the fenders of this ROADMASTER Riviera Sedan. An extra touch of distinction that's yours as a standard item.

What's the secret of the "UNRUFFLED" RIDE?

SOME car makers say springs make the ride—and so we give every Buick four of the soft, gentle coil springs practically all cars use on front wheels only.

Some say the drive is important—how power is transmitted to the rear wheels.

We agree—and use a torque-tube drive, that takes up all the thrust, freeing rear springs of driving pulsation.

Some stress tires—so you'll find low-pressure casings on every Buick, mounted on our own kind of Safety-Ride rims. Some play up shock absorbers—we make ours fast, soft and sure in action, to wash out all "after-bounce."

Then there are frames—and car weight—and engine mountings, which on Buick are a very special kind used nowhere else.

They're all important—yet the plain truth is no one of these things—or two or three—gives a ride you can truly call "unruffled."

We feel it takes all of them—springs, tires, shock absorbers, drive, engine mountings—carefully and precisely brought into balance with each other.

You can see why we think so in any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

You can feel it on cobblestones and car tracks, washboard gravel and weatherpocked macadam, country lane and city street. You even feel it on boulevards, which grow still smoother when you travel them in a Buick—especially when it has Dynaflow Drive.*

So we would like you to try a ride that is truly "unruffled." Free of harshness—undisturbed by jounce and jitter—level—steady-going—smooth.

Just ask any Buick dealer for a chance to try out any Buick. You'll find it "the ride of a lifetime"—and the buy of a lifetime too!

* Dynaflow Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Only Buick has Dynaflow and with it goes:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD frontend, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with body by Fisher.

Edison, OPS Now Merged

Stockholders Okay Utility Expansion

Merger of the Ohio Edison and the Ohio Public Service companies into the Ohio Edison Co. became effective today following approval of common stockholders of Ohio Edison at a special meeting in Akron last week.

A total of 3,163,759 shares or 30.75% of the outstanding 3,920,111 shares of common stock were voted for the merger, and only 3091 shares or .08% were voted against the merger.

Common stockholders of Ohio Public Service had previously approved the merger on April 12 with 2,948,357 shares in favor of, and 2,836 shares against, the merger. Total number of Ohio Public Service common shares outstanding is 3,000,000.

A favorable two-thirds vote of all common shares outstanding was necessary in each instance. No vote of the preferred shareholders of either company was necessary, since the merger had been approved by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The merger became effective today.

Ohio Edison acquires all of the properties and assumes all of the liabilities of Ohio Public Service Company, including the latter's bonds, serial notes, and installment notes amounting to $58,600,000.

The Ohio Edison system (including Pennsylvania Power Co.) had 498,000 electric customers on March 31, 1950, located in 685 communities and rural areas, of which 569 are in Ohio. The largest communities in order of population are Akron, Youngstown, Springfield, Warren, Lorain, Mansfield, Elyria, Marion, Sandusky, Massillon, Barberton, Alliance, Salem, Campbell, Ashland, Struthers, Kent, Ravenna, Girard, Port Clinton, Crestline, Medina and London, all in Ohio; and New Castle, Sharon, Farrell, Greenville and Sharpsville in western Pennsylvania.

Total population served at retail is 1,728,000.

Total employees exceed 5,400.

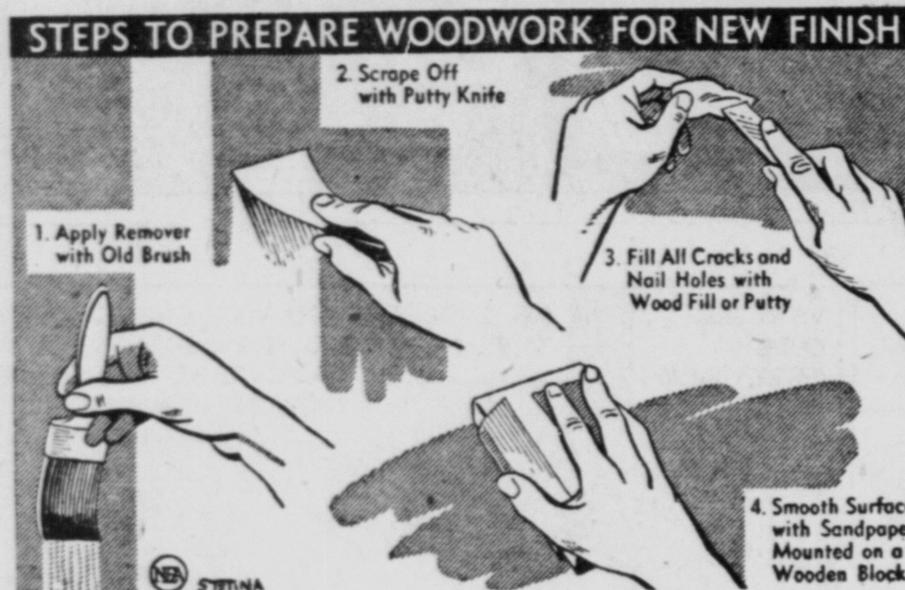

Total operating revenue of the system for the 12 months ended March 31 was $77,691,517.

The Ohio Edison system now has a total generating capacity of 1,141,260 kilowatts in 14 power plants. The largest plants and their kilowatt ratings follow: the Toronto plant on the Ohio River - 300,000; R. E. Burger plant on the Ohio River - 230,000; Gorge plant at Akron - 132,000; Edgewater plant at Lorain - 91,000; New Castle, Pa., plant - 88,000; Mahoningside plant at Warren - 86,000; Mad River plant at Springfield - 69,000; Lowellville plant - 63,500 kilowatts.

DOG ADOPTS RABBIT.—Klina, a registered German miniature pinscher, has adopted a foundling baby jack rabbit to grow up with her own litter of three pups. The owner of the dog, Elvin J. Bryant, of Modesto, Calif., brought the tiny rabbit to Klina just a day before she had her litter. After a week in the pinscher's care, the little jack behaves very much like his foster brothers.

How to Refinish Woodwork

By BOB SCHARFF

If there is a room or two in your home that has battered, dingy woodwork, why not do something about it? You can freshen up an entire room, even restyle it, by giving its woodwork a new finish.

No matter what finish is now on the woodwork, it must first be cleaned thoroughly. Old varnished surfaces generally require the use of varnish remover to clean.

Apply with an old brush, let it soak a few minutes, then scrape off the sludge with a putty knife. After the last traces have been removed, wipe the surface with a cloth saturated with denatured alcohol.

Old enameled or painted surfaces should be sanded with No. 0 sandpaper, brushed clean, then washed with a water solution of sal soda. Varnish remover may also be used to take off the paint.

When the old finish is removed, fill all cracks, nail holes and other blemishes with putty if woodwork is to be painted or wood filler for natural or stained and varnished finishes. Then smooth with No. 0 sandpaper mounted on a wood block. Dust surface just before applying any finish.

If the woodwork is to be left natural color, just apply one or two coats of interior varnish followed by a coat of clear wax.

When a stained tone is desired, brush on one coat of oil stain; allow it to soak, then wipe with a cloth to bring out the grain. Early wiping gives a lighter color; later, a darker one. Follow with a coat of thinned shellac. When dry, sand lightly and apply another coat of shellac or varnish. Waxing finishes the job.

For a bleached finish, use oxalic acid crystals or any bleach manufactured for the purpose. Follow this by sponging with clear water to remove the residue of the bleaching agent. When dry, apply a coat of varnish and one of wax.

For beauty and long life, painted woodwork should be a three or

Steel Output Set Record Last Week

CLEVELAND, May 1—(UP)—Steelmaking furnaces last week poured out 1,915,798 tons, a new weekly record in the industry, the magazine Steel reported today.

And the journal of the steel industry said "the heavy volume that has pushed steel production to capacity continues undiminished."

The continuing great demand "suggests the need" for continued high production, Steel said, but there are obstacles in the way, such as "summer vacations in the steel mills and possible labor trouble in companies selling to or buying from the steel companies."

The 1,915,798 tons laded out last week represented a national average of 100.5 percent of capacity. The percentage was no record; furnaces have operated at even greater efficiency in other years, but capacity was never so high before. Last week was the second one in a row to achieve an all-time tonnage record, Steel said.
